Pneumatic Rubber Fenders Foam Filled Fenders Sale, Rent & Maintenance

FENDERS TECHNOLOGY

- Anti Rotation Device
- Pressure/Position Detectors
- Repair and protection, reconditioning
- Fenders Special Mooring Ropes for FPSO

Pneumatic fenders features

This is ideal in situations where the fixed fender is not applicable such as ship to ship operations, off-shore, and some ship-to-wharf operations. It is also suitable for the use on quay where the tidal range is large.

Like the hollow cylindrical fender, its initial reaction load is low at the early stage of compression and its cushion effect is virtually independent of approaching angle of ship.

Pneumatic fenders are made of double layer of superior rubber.

Foam Filled Marine Fenders

A superior external chain and aircraft tire net constructed exclusively with aircraft tires, heavy-duty rubber tubing and chains that are connected at every intersection with a shackle. This is the key element in the Ocean Cushion, un-surpassed strength and resilience.

The Ocean Cushion, skin is constructed of tough and thick nylon filament reinforced polyurethane skin.

The skin also has a nylon tire cord applied in a helix pattern during the coating that embeds the filament into the skin.

This advanced process makes the Ocean cushion, skin extremely durable to all weather, forces and marine conditions.
